

NICHOLAS ECONOMIDES

Professor of Economics,

Stern School of Business, New York University

New York, N.Y.

Mr. Economides is professor of economics at the Stern School of Business of New York University and founder and executive director of the NET Institute.

He taught at Columbia University from 1981 through 1988 and at Stanford University from 1988 through 1990. He is editor of the Journal of Economics & Management Strategy, Netnomics, The Quarterly Journal of Electronic Commerce, The Journal of Financial Transformation, The Journal of Network Industries, International Journal of Management and Networks Economics and Economics of Networks Abstracts by the Social Science Research Network (SSRN). He is also a past editor of the International Journal of Industrial Organization and is on the advisory board of Journal of Competition and Regulation in Network Industries and of the SSRN.

He has advised or is currently advising the U.S. Federal Trade Commission, the governments of Canada, Greece, Ireland, New Zealand and Portugal, the attorneys general of New York and Texas, major telecommunications and high technology companies, a number of the Federal Reserve Banks, the Bank of Greece and major financial exchanges. He serves on the advisory board of the Economist Intelligence Unit and Quadrivers.