

Jill Cetina, Vice President, Banking Supervision, Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas

Jill Cetina is vice president in Banking Supervision at the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, providing leadership for the surveillance and supervisory risk division at the bank, spanning both quantitative analysis and specialty exam areas.

Ms. Cetina began her career as an economist in the U.S. Treasury Department. She also worked as a project team leader at the Federal Reserve Board and earned a Board special achievement award during the 2008-09 financial crisis. She also has been a financial economist in the Economics Department at the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, and most recently as an associate director at the Office of Financial Research.