

Courtney R. Butler

Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City | Kansas City, MO | 816-585-0288 | Courtney.Butler@kc.frb.org

Education

Master of Arts in Organizational Leadership (in-progress)
Rockhurst University, Kansas City, MO
Concentration: Organizational Leadership and Development

Master of Library Science
Indiana University, Bloomington, IN
Specialization: Archives and Records Management

Bachelor of Arts
Cornell College, Mount Vernon, IA
Majors: International Relations, Russian Studies

Certifications:

Certified Data Management Professional (CDMP) – Practitioner
DAMA International

Data Management Capabilities Assessment Model (DCAM) Certified V2
EDM Council

Select Experience

Data Management Strategist Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City	July 2021 – Present
Data Librarian Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City	September 2016 – July 2021
Clinical Librarian – Informationist Children’s Mercy Kansas City	July 2014 – August 2017

Publications

Butler, C. R., Currier, B. D., & Lillard, K. M. (2021). Safeguarding Research: A Review of Economic Journals’ Preservation Policies for Published Code and Data Files. Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City, Research Working Paper no. 21-14, December. Available at <https://doi.org/10.18651/RWP2021-14>

Butler, C. R. (2018). Creating Data Citation Templates for Economics. Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City, Technical Briefing no. 18-04, November. Available at <https://doi.org/10.18651/TB/TB1804>

Select Presentations

*Invited

Special

*Butler, C. R. (2018). Practical Data Curation for Reproducibility. Presentation to the U.S. Census Bureau Center for Economic Studies, Washington, D.C. Available at <http://doi.org/10.31229/osf.io/fp8cd>

Virtual

Klaus, G. & Butler, C. R. (2021). Connect with your why, why, why: Understanding business needs for data management. Presentation to the Federal Reserve System Data Village 2021 Conference.

Currier, B. D., Butler, C. R., & Ball, S. (2020). Data Management is Everyone's Business. Presentation to the Federal Reserve System Information Management Conference.

Kulp, C. M., Butler, C. R., & Lillard, K. M. (2020). From Zero to Heroes: Reflections on building a data librarian team. Presentation to the Midwest Data Librarians Symposium.

*Butler, C. R. (2020). Building Data Science Skills: Enhancing Core Capabilities and Understanding Unique Value. Presentation to the National Information Standards Organization (NISO) webinar "Building Data Science Skills: Strategic Support for the Work." Available at <https://doi.org/10.31229/osf.io/quw26>

*Jones, P., Butler, C. R., & Zhao, S. (2017). Librarianship and Data Science. Panel presentation to the MidContinental Region of the National Network of Libraries of Medicine April Breezing Along with the RML. Available at <https://youtu.be/X-HV-xMBIAI>

International

Butler, C. R. (2018). Gold (AU)DRIPSS: A Decision-Making Framework for Knowledge Management. Presentation to the 2018 Annual International Conference on Digital Presentation (iPRES) Conference, Boston, MA.

Butler, C. R. & Kulp, C. M. (2018). The Role of Data Supplements in Reproducibility: Curation Challenges. Presentation to the 2018 Annual International Association for Social Science Information Services & Technology (IASSIST) Conference, Montreal, Quebec, Canada.

Kulp, C. M. & Butler, C. R. (2018). Starting with "the end" in mind: Data services at the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City. Presentation to the 2018 Annual International Association for Social Science Information Services & Technology (IASSIST) Conference, Montreal, Quebec, Canada.

Butler, C. R. & Currier, B. D. (2018). Moving from Compliance to Reproducibility: Metadata for Supplementary Research Collections. Presentation to the 2018 North American Data Documentation Initiative Conference, Washington, D.C. Available at <http://doi.org/10.5281/zenodo.1217148>

Currier, B. D. & Butler, C. R. (2017). Research Data Reproducibility and the Importance of Attachment Level Metadata. Presentation to the 11th U.S. Networked Knowledge Organization Systems (NKOS) Workshop at the International Conference on Dublin Core and Metadata Applications, Washington, D.C. Available at <http://doi.org/10.17605/OSF.IO/7KUGA>

Butler, C. R. & Currier, B. D. (2017). You can't replicate what you can't find: Data preservation policies in economic journals. Presentation to the Annual International Association for Social Science Information Services & Technology Conference, Lawrence, KS. Available at <http://doi.org/10.17605/OSF.IO/HF3DS>

National

Bramble, J., Glenn, E. J., Lillich, A., Butler, C. R., Molinaro, M., & Burroughs, C. (2017). Journal Clubs as a Learning Method to Increase Librarians' Knowledge of Biomedical Big Data Applications. Poster presented to the Annual Medical Library Association Conference, Seattle, Washington. Presented by J. Bramble.

Butler, C. R., Wright, K., & Knackstedt, A. (2016). Facilitating Health Literacy through Intra-organizational Collaboration. Poster presented to the Annual Institute for Healthcare Advancement Health Literacy Conference, Anaheim, CA.

Honors and Awards

President's Award
Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City

First Quarter 2019

Fellow
Georgia Biomedical Informatics Course
Sponsored by the National Library of Medicine

September 11 – 17, 2016
Young Harris, Georgia

Grant Support

Co-Investigator
"Health Literacy Challenges and Opportunities: Bringing Children's Mercy and Kansas City Together"
National Network of Libraries of Medicine MidContinental Region Immersive Workshop Funding
<https://scholarlyexchange.childrensmercy.org/healthliteracy/workshop/>

December 2017 – April 2018

Professional Service

Proposal Reviewer
IASSIST 2022

January 2022

Proposal Reviewer
IASSIST 2020

December 2019 – January 2020

Paper Competition Reviewer/Session Chair
IASSIST 2018

April 2018 – May 2018

Steering Committee Member
Metadata and Digital Objects Section
Society of American Archivists

February 2018 – August 2020

Conference Planning Committee Member
Beyond the Numbers 2018

October 2017 – November 2018

Last updated: January 2022