

Ademiju Allen

Ademiju Allen is a Senior Client Analyst at Rystad Energy, an analysis and consultancy company offering services and analysis across the full spectrum of energy sources. He is based in Rystad's New York office with the primary concentration on delivering data analysis, insights, and workflow solutions to Buy Side financial institutions.

In his capacity at Rystad, Ademiju specializes in US Gas Market Fundamentals – supply, demand, pricing, and storage – delving into their developments and effects. Given this area of expertise, he is a fixed member and contributor of the Rystad Energy Gas Markets team performing research, data synthesis, and analysis of the US and global gas market space to deliver on key market analysis for Rystad's client base. He is responsible for co-authoring Rystad's monthly US Gas Balances report, along with market trend commentaries, and the US weekly Gas Market Note.

Prior to joining Rystad in September of 2020, Ademiju held various roles as an analyst for eight years in the energy industry. He received his Master's in Finance in 2010 from Rochester Institute of Technology.