Energy and the Economy: Reshuffling the Energy Deck

Tuesday, Nov. 7, 2023

8 a.m.- 4 p.m.

Mark your calendar for the eighth annual energy conference hosted by the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City and the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas. The conference focuses on the key drivers of oil and gas and their implications for the energy industry, the financial sector, and the broader economy. Top leaders from academia, business, and government present and discuss their views on these topics.

Attend the conference in two ways:

- 1 Online, or
- 2 In person at the Petroleum Club of Oklahoma City:
100 N Broadway Ave #3400, Oklahoma City, OK 73102

Registration will open next month.

For more information about the conference, contact Pam Campbell at pam.campbell@kc.frb.org.
