

June policy summit to focus on building strong and sustainable communities

January 23, 2025

The Policy Summit is open to community developers, policymakers and others from around the U.S. Hosted by the Federal Reserve, it will be held in June 2025 in Cleveland, Ohio, and virtually.

Spend two days with people leading exceptional work with lower-income communities across the United States. Policy Summit 2025: Building Strong and Sustainable Communities is hosted by the Federal Reserve (including the Kansas City Fed) on June 26 and 27, 2025, in Cleveland, Ohio. The community development event is dedicated to best practices, policies, and programs affecting lower-income communities.

Attendees will have the opportunity to build relationships with peers from across the country, access timely research, learn how to design and implement high-impact programs and strategies, and so much more.

POLICY SUMMIT 2025

Building Strong and Sustainable Communities

June 26-27, 2025 ■ Attend in Cleveland or virtually

FEDERAL RESERVE BANK of CLEVELAND

This biennial Summit ensures that local voices are part of the national dialogue about solutions to promote economic mobility and resilience. Know any community practitioners, policymakers, researchers, funders, bankers, or students who will want to be one of those voices? Forward this news to them. <https://clefed.org/3ZfE3Rp>
