

2018 Energy Conference: Energy and the Economy - Charting the Course Ahead

February 16, 2021

The Federal Reserve Banks of Dallas and Kansas City hosted their third joint energy conference on September 7 in Dallas. The conference focused on global oil market dynamics, the long-term outlook for U.S. shale, and U.S. energy trade flows. Participants were business leaders, central bankers, government officials, academics and financial market representatives.

The Federal Reserve Banks of Dallas and Kansas City will hosted their third joint energy conference on September 7 in Dallas. The conference focused on global oil market dynamics, the long-term outlook for U.S. shale, and U.S. energy trade flows. Participants are business leaders, central bankers, government officials, academics and financial market representatives.

Featured Speakers:

- Robert S. Kaplan, Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas
- John Auers, Turner, Mason & Co.
- Linda Capuano, U.S. Energy Information Administration
- Willie Chiang, Plains All American Pipeline
- Helima Croft, RBC Capital Markets
- Greg Determann, JPMorgan Chase
- Tom Jorden, Cimarex Energy
- Ed Morse, Citigroup
- C.H. "Scott" Rees III, Netherland, Sewell & Associates
- Kate Richard, Warwick Energy Group
- Ron Ripple, University of Tulsa
- Mark Schwartz, S&P; Global Platts
- Torsten Sløk, Deutsche Bank

For more information, visit the conference web page.
