FEDERAL RESERVE BANK OF KANSAS CITY ANNOUNCES PROMOTIONS

The following promotions were recently announced by Thomas M. Hoenig, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City:

Larry D. Bailey was promoted to vice president. He joined the Bank in 1987 as an assistant examiner in the Examinations and Inspections Department and in 1994 assumed supervisory responsibility in the Supervision and Risk Management Division's technology function. He was promoted to manager in 1996 and was promoted to assistant vice president of the Supervision and Risk Management division's Technology Services group in 2004. He holds a dual B.A. degree in music composition and music theory and an MBA with an emphasis in finance from the University of Missouri-Kansas City. He is also a graduate of the Bank Administration Institute Graduate School of Bank Operations and Technology at Vanderbilt University.

Kristofer K. Hogan was promoted to assistant vice president. He joined the Bank in 1996 as an information system technician in the Technical Support department. He held several supervisory and managerial positions before being promoted to Technology Manager III in the ITSS DSS Support department. He holds a B.S. degree in telecommunications management from DeVry University and is pursuing an MBA degree from the Keller Graduate School of Management.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City and its branches in Denver, Oklahoma City and Omaha serve the Tenth Federal Reserve District: Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Wyoming, northern New Mexico and the western third of Missouri.
