

CHRIS ERICKSON
Managing Director
HighQuest Partners

Chris Erickson is chief executive officer of Soyatech and a partner of HighQuest Partners. Since 2006, Mr. Erickson has been responsible for the formation of the highly regarded Soyatech conference programs around the world. Prior to assuming that role at Soyatech, Mr. Erickson served as the director of operations and finance for HighQuest Partners.

Prior to joining HighQuest Partners, Mr. Erickson worked for Abbott Labs in sales and sales management positions. Before joining Abbott, Mr. Erickson served four years in the U.S. Army as an armor officer assigned to the 3rd Infantry Division. He held various direct leadership roles as a platoon leader and executive officer. Before leaving the service, Mr. Erickson was assigned as the senior logistics officer of a tank battalion, with direct oversight of the budget and all non-combat resources.

Mr. Erickson received his MBA from Georgia Southern University and B.S. in marketing from the Carroll School of Management at Boston College.
