

STRUCTURAL TRANSITIONS IN GLOBAL AGRICULTURE

←
JULY 15-16, 2014
FEDERAL RESERVE BANK
OF KANSAS CITY

CHAD HART

Associate Professor of Economics, Iowa State University

Chad Hart is an associate professor of economics at Iowa State University. He is a native of southwest Missouri, growing up on a rural homestead near Stark City, Mo.

Mr. Hart received his doctorate in economics and statistics in 1999 from Iowa State University. His work has concentrated on crop marketing, crop insurance, international trade agreements, and bioenergy policy. He also is a partner in FarmRisk, an Iowa firm that develops revenue insurance products.