

Career Navigation: The Roadmap and Rules

Doug Harris

Session Description: Having a “job” alone, is not enough to reach your future destination. Your career is your responsibility. How you define success and how well you understand what drives you will determine if you reach your desired destination. There are several key factors when navigating your career that will definitely impact your happiness and push you towards your road to success!

During this workshop, you will discover your own route - The Road to Your Success. You will learn what it takes to define your personal roadmap, what it means to be fulfilled, motivated and contributing, and how not to be derailed by obstacles along the way.

Travel in your own lane and evolve into the best version of you, while adding value throughout your journey.
