IMPORTANT NOTICE

To Tenants, Vendors and Visitors:

As you know from recent news reports, the spread of COVID-19 (Coronavirus) remains a concern across the globe. The health and safety of everyone who visits the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City is important to us and we continue to closely monitor the situation.

Out of an abundance of caution, if any of the following apply to you we ask that you not visit the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City or its branch office locations in Denver, Colo., Omaha, Neb., and Oklahoma City, Okla.

- You have a confirmed case of Coronavirus, or have been notified by medical personnel that you are being assessed or monitored for the virus;
- you visited any of the affected areas where the Coronavirus is prevalent in the last two weeks;
- you live with or are in close contact with a person who has been to an area where the Coronavirus is prevalent in the last two weeks; or,
- you have had close contact with someone who is confirmed to have, or is being evaluated for, Coronavirus infection.

We appreciate your support and attention to this important topic. If you have questions, please contact us using the below information.
