KANSAS CITY FED ANNOUNCES OFFICER APPOINTMENT

The following officer appointment was recently announced by Esther George, president and chief executive officer of the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City:

James Stuart has been promoted to assistant vice president for the Bank's Financial Information Repository Project Management Office. In this role, he will have responsibility for overseeing projects related to services the Bank provides to the U.S. Department of the Treasury. Stuart joined the Bank in 2001 as an analyst in the Facilities Management Department and has also held positions in the Human Resources and Financial Management departments. He was most recently a staff manager in the Bank's Technology Solutions Delivery Division. Stuart has a bachelor's degree in business administration and economics from William Jewell College and an MBA with an emphasis in finance from Rockhurst University. He is also a certified public accountant.

As the regional headquarters of the nation's central bank, the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City and its branches in Denver, Oklahoma City and Omaha serve the seven states of the Tenth Federal Reserve District: Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Wyoming, northern New Mexico and western Missouri.
