KANSAS CITY FED APPOINTS COMMUNITY DEPOSITORY INSTITUTION ADVISORY COUNCIL MEMBERS

The Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City recently announced the following appointments to its Community Depository Institutions Advisory Council (CDIAC). The council, which was established in 2011, provides input to the Bank and its senior management on the economy, lending conditions and other issues.

New members for the council in 2016 are:

- Lyne B. Andrich, executive vice president and chief financial officer, CoBiz Financial, Denver, Colo.
- Deron Burr, president, People's Bank of Seneca, Seneca, Mo.
- Robert Chavez, president and chief executive officer, Sandia Laboratory Federal Credit Union, Albuquerque, N.M.
- John J. Coyne III, president and chief executive officer, Big Horn Federal Savings Bank, Greybull, Wyo.
- Herbert E. Hardwick, founder, Hardwick Law Firm, Kansas City, Mo.
- Leo Schumacher, chief executive officer, Lincoln Federal Savings Bank, Lincoln, Neb.

The 12 members of the CDIAC represent banks, thrift institutions and credit unions and provide diverse views from community institutions across the Tenth Federal Reserve District. One CDIAC member, Kyle Heckman, president and CEO of Flatirons Bank, Boulder, Colo., will serve as the Tenth District's representative to meet twice a year with the Federal Reserve System's Board of Governors in Washington, D.C. As the regional headquarters of the nation's central bank, the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City and its branches in Denver, Oklahoma City and Omaha serve the seven states of the Tenth Federal Reserve District: Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Wyoming, northern New Mexico and western Missouri. More information about the Bank's advisory councils is available on its website.
