

Statement on Transparency and Accountability Policy at the 12 Reserve Banks

December 21, 2023

See the Federal Reserve Bank's statement on transparency and accountability.

December 21, 2023

In the interest of further strengthening the Federal Reserve System's commitment to transparency, today the 12 Federal Reserve Banks released a common policy for public requests for information. The Transparency and Accountability Policy will go into effect January 1, 2024, and seeks to simplify and standardize the Federal Reserve Banks' public information request process. A link to the Kansas City Fed's policy can be found here.
