Based on guidance from public health authorities for businesses to take steps to minimize close contact with larger numbers of people, the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City’s Money Museums in both Kansas City and Denver will temporarily close to visitors until further notice.

This decision is made out of an abundance of caution, as it is our priority to ensure the health and safety of employees and guests. While the Museums are closed, the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City remains open and operational.

We hope we can welcome you to our Money Museum at another time.
